

I graduated from Wittenberg University in 2017 with a Bachelor's in Early Childhood Education and Special Education. After graduation, I worked as a first-grade teacher for three years in the Chicagoland area. In August of 2020, I moved to Kansas City and began working at St. Peter's School as the K-6 reading support teacher. There, I implemented the Wilson Reading and Foundations programs, where I worked with kindergarten through sixth grade students individually and in small-group settings. For the past four summers, I have tutored students in reading and writing and I am excited to continue that work this summer.
